Yucatan is the home of an uncanry pecies of spider, known all over Central America as the "mule-shearer." This queer representative of the My-gale family has a habit of creeping up the legs of mules and horses and shearing off the hair that surrounds the hoof, especially the fetlock. The hair gained in this curious operation is used by the insect as a nest-building naterial, and is removed from the leg of the mule or horse by a strong pair of mandibles, which resemble those of a "pinching" bug. Animals bitten by the "mule-shearer" always lose their

Mysteries . . Unveiled

A close scrutiny and contemplation of the accompanying cut will aid in understanding and appreciating some of the mysteries and marvelous mechanism of the human body. Anatomy, phsiology, intellectual science, phrenology and metaphysics, all teach us to realize that man is only a little lower than the angels, and that with almost boundless possibilities that call forth his majestic powers, he fathoms all secrets and dares to lift the vail that hides what yet shall be, and look into the great unknown, the mystery of mysteries.

He is indeed the climax of cre-* ation, the Apollo of the universe. He stands erect in his unfeigned dignity, and moves superb and august among all created beings Surely man's qualities and attributes are mysterious and wonderful, and challenge our earnest study and warmest admiration,
